

GOVERNMENT WINS; NO PERMANENT RESTRAINT ON SHIP PROHIBITION

Judge Hand To-day Handing Down Decision Dismissing Motion of Foreign and American Ship Companies for Injunction To Nullify Bone Dry Ruling

TEMPORARY EXTENSION FOR APPEAL GIVEN

The Specific Case Was Petition of Ship Companies for Restraint Against Seizure of Liquor Shipments on Eastbound Steamers From United States

New York, Oct. 23 (By the Associated Press).—Federal Judge Learned Hand to-day handed down a decision dismissing the motion of foreign and American ship companies for a permanent injunction restraining federal prohibition agents from putting into effect the bone dry ruling of Attorney General Daugherty. He extended the stay temporarily, however, providing that the steamship companies file an immediate appeal to the United States supreme court.

Judge Hand decided in favor of the government on all points. The decision was rendered on the specific matter of the application of foreign lines for an injunction protecting from seizure ships carrying liquor under seal on the eastbound voyage from the United States.

The decision applies to both foreign and American lines because of the statement made by Judge Hand during last week, that a defeat of the motion of the foreign lines would naturally bring about defeat of the American lines' motion for an injunction.

The temporary extension of the stay granted by Judge Hand applies only to liquor to be used as supplies for members of ships' crews on the eastbound voyage to Europe. This extension was granted on the furnishing of a bond of $25,000 by the steamship companies to guarantee that the liquor would not be used for any other purposes than the one stipulated.

Everett Masten of counsel for the White Star line, announced immediately after the decision was made known that his firm and representatives of the 12 other foreign and domestic lines represented in the proceedings would bring an appeal as soon as possible.

FOREIGN NATIONS ARE PAYING U. S.

Besides Interest on British Debts There Were Payments from France and Belgium.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—Aside from the interest payments of the foreign debts received this month from Great Britain the treasury was able to credit something over $500,000 to the accounts of Belgium and France. The Belgian item was an interest payment of approximately $450,000 on account of materials purchased from the war department, while the French credit was $111,000 paid into the treasury by the railroad administration in satisfaction of a claim of the French government against that administration.

It was explained that this transaction was in accord with an agreement under which claims of foreign governments against the United States growing out of the war would be credited to the principal of the debt to these governments to this country.

FRANCE DISTURBED.

Over Situation in Berlin—Fears for Financial Matters.

Paris, Oct. 23. (By the Associated Press).—The French government is greatly disturbed over the present situation in Berlin, in view of the fact, as asserted in Berlin advices here, that Chancellor Wirth is obliged to have the protection of a strong bodyguard whenever he goes out. The feeling here is that a government laboring under such constraint is incapable of dealing adequately with the financial situation and the reparations problem. The French government, it was indicated to-day, will probably insist upon a thorough consideration of the situation as soon as the near eastern peace conference is out of the way, if it is found impossible to take it up sooner.

SCOTCH TEMPERANCE VOTE FOR LLOYD GEORGE

That Is the Possibility, According to Report from Edinburgh.

London, Oct. 23.—There is a strong possibility, declares a Central News dispatch from Edinburgh to-day, that the Scotch temperance vote which in 1918 was cast solidly for the coalition will be cast at the forthcoming election in favor of candidates supporting Lloyd George. Leading temperance organizations are meeting to discuss the situation, adds the message, and many minor conferences already have passed resolutions in support of the retiring premier.

If the report is accurate, it is estimated that such an attitude by the Scotch temperance voters would give approximately 400,000 votes, judging from the anti-licensing vote at the last election.

It is considered unlikely in temperance quarters that the Scotch temperance advocates will support the unionists in the forthcoming election, as Sir George Younger, present chairman of the unionist party, is a prominent Scotch brewer, but whether they will throw the weight of their influence solidly on the other side, or if any party is considered here as a highly speculative question.

London, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Lloyd George after having presided for several years in England's "white house" has been forced to join the unhappy throng of seekers after habitations in this crowded city, which since the war, owing to the long curtailment of building, has afforded few facilities for those wishing to establish a home. To-day she was looking for a house in the Westminster district, and she must get it quickly, for the retiring premier's family wishes to vacate No. 10 Downing street to-morrow if possible to make room for the new prime minister.

BONAR LAW IS CHOSEN LEADER

Became Prime Minister of Great Britain To-day

HAS NOT STATED HIS POLICY

Was Unanimously Chosen Leader of Unionist Party

London, Oct. 23. (By the Associated Press).—England to-day had its first conservative prime minister in 17 years in the person of Andrew Bonar Law, who, although asked by the king last week to form a cabinet, deferred his definite acceptance of the premiership until to-day, when the unionists elected him their leader. The conservative meeting held at the Hotel Cecil this morning was attended by 489 members of the party, including many of those whose names are famous in British statesmanship. The new prime minister was elected unanimously. Absent from the meeting were prominent unionists such as Austen Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead and the earl of Balfour, all three of whom last week revolted from the decision of their party to return to party independence and to quit Mr. Lloyd George. To the revolting members, Mr. Bonar Law held out the olive branch, expressing the hope that they would return to the fold.

Contrary to expectations, the new premier did not outline his administrative policy, reserving that for later in the week. He did say enough to indicate that he proposed to follow the course which the conservatives have called for, namely "peace, safety and economy."

Marquis Curzon, who presided at the meeting, in a speech proposing Mr. Bonar Law's election as party leader, said that what the country wanted was stability and not sensation, peace at home as well as abroad, no extension of its responsibilities, but a curtailment of the present burden.

London, Oct. 23. (By the Associated Press).—Andrew Bonar Law was unanimously elected leader of the Unionist party at the party meeting held this afternoon.

The meeting, an enthusiastic gathering, was held at the Hotel Cecil, attended by 439 members of the party, including 152 peers.

Mr. Bonar Law was proposed for the leadership by Margate Curzon, secretary for foreign affairs in the Lloyd George cabinet.

Mr. Bonar Law's election enables him to accept the task of forming a cabinet, thereby giving England her first Conservative prime minister since 1905.

The premier-designate did not define his policy before the meeting, according to reports obtained from the gathering, but intimated that he would do so in his speech at Glasgow Saturday night.

Mr. Bonar Law in his speech expressed the hope that those coalition unionists who had voted against the resolution passed by the Carlton club meeting last week for a return to party independence would join their unionist brothers and go to the country as a united party.

Mr. Bonar Law lost no time, but arranged for an audience with King George to take place at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

In the course of his address Mr. Bonar Law declared that this was not the time for introducing large schemes which might be beneficial to the empire.

He added that he should rather hope for a period of quietness than one of fierce controversy. His reference was understood to refer to tariff reform.

TO DETECT GAS LEAKS.

New Phase in New Jersey Murder Mystery Was Brought About To-day

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 23.—At the request of Supreme Court Justice Parker, the attorney general's department to-day assumed charge of the investigation of the Hall-Miller murder case. Attorney-General McCann deputized Wilbur A. Mott of Essex county as deputy attorney general in charge. Mr. Mott will begin his duties immediately.

The action of Justice Parker was taken at the joint request of Prosecutors Stricker and Beekman of Middlesex and Somerset counties, respectively.

The announcement from the attorney general's office came as a surprise in view of reports that the case was practically closed and that indictments were to be asked of the Somerset county grand jury. It is taken here as an indication that the prosecutors have admitted failure and that the mystery is not near solution.

Martin of Chicago reported that 83 per cent of the hospitals of the country, with a minimum of 100 beds, had accepted the college's standards, which require that all hospitals of more than sixty beds keep a record of an organized staff and provide adequate X-ray and laboratory facilities.

Dr. Martin said the program had received the endorsement of the American Hospital association, the Protestant Hospital association and the Catholic Hospital association, as well as the American Medical association.

Dr. Harvey Cushing, chief surgeon at the Peter Bent Brigham hospital in this city, will deliver his address as president-elect of the college at this evening's meeting.

DR. LYMAN ABBOTT, AGED 86, IS DEAD

Well-Known Editor of Outlook and Man of Public Affairs.

New York, Oct. 23.—Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor-in-chief of the Outlook, with which he had been associated nearly 40 years, clergyman, lawyer, author and successor to Henry Ward Beecher as pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, died Sunday. He would have been 87 next December. His four sons and two daughters were at the bedside when he died.

Dr. Abbott suffered a severe attack of bronchitis at his country home in Cornwall-on-the-Hudson last summer, from which he never fully recovered. He returned to his city home two weeks ago.

The Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., was one of the most active leaders in many avenues of religious and civic thought in the United States. As preacher, editor, author and theologian he exhibited a quality of vigor which impressed itself on all who came in contact with him, a singular poise and serenity of spirit.

In his early youth, after graduation from the University of the City of New York, he studied law and was admitted to the bar, and afterwards practiced in partnership with his brothers, Benjamin V. and Austin Abbott. Giving up the law for theology, he studied for the ministry of the Congregational church, with his uncle, S. C. Abbott, and was ordained at Farmington, Me., in 1860. His first charge was in Terre Haute, Ind., where he remained five years.

As editor of the Christian Union, which was later to be known as the Outlook, his work, in association with that of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, marked him as a man of great promise and one who saw religion, not too narrowly conventionalized, but overlapping and spiritualizing many of the social and civil problems of the time.

After the death of Mr. Beecher, Dr. Abbott became pastor of Plymouth church in Brooklyn, where his predecessor had earned fame as one of the foremost pulpits orators in America. He was installed in Plymouth church on Jan. 16, 1890, and remained in charge until 1899, when he resigned. He published a life of Henry Ward Beecher and a volume of his sermons.

In Dr. Abbott's work as editor of the Outlook, in which he was associated in his long career with many famous men, including Theodore Roosevelt, he sought to interpret the different orders of political organizations from the Christian viewpoint.

Those who were near him during this part of his life say that extraordinary working power was one of his chief characteristics. Moderation and sanity were the chief notes of his temperament and attitude. He commanded attention by his transparent sincerity and by a gift of clear persuasive statement.

The range of Dr. Abbott's connection with civic enterprises was very wide; he had intimate association with betterment work in many fields. He held office in at least a score of organizations for city, state and national, and even international reform, and was actively interested in many others, including societies for moral, civil and prison reform, charity organizations, forestry associations and the American Red Cross society.

Dr. Abbott was known not only to his friends and co-workers but to the public as well, as a rational optimist, one who sees clearly present obstacles and evils, but is confident that the creative forces in society are making for the freedom and happiness of man, and must prevail.

His most important achievement kept him always at high points of observation and explains in a measure the harmony he was able to establish between himself and his work, which was prodigious for a man of slight physique and small muscular strength.

Before starting on what might be called his ministerial career, he, in collaboration with his brother, wrote two novels: "Come-out Comers" and "Matthew Caraby."

His most important volumes are: "The Result of Emancipation in the United States," "Old Testament Shadows of New Testament Truths," "A Layman's Story," "A Study in Human Nature," "The Theology of an Evolutionist," "The Evolution of Christianity," "Social Problems" and "Problems of Life."

The following saying is at once widely quoted and characteristic of him: "He who denies the brotherhood of man is as much an infidel as he who denies the fatherhood of God."

Dr. Abbott was born in Roxbury, Mass., Dec. 18, 1835. In 1857, he married Abby Frances Hamlin, who died in 1907. By her Dr. Abbott had six children, two of whom, Ernest H. and Lawrence F., were associated with him in the management of the Outlook.

FOURTEEN KILLED IN NEW YORK FIRE

Most of the Victims Were Children—Fire Believed to Have Been Work of Pyromaniac.

New York, Oct. 23.—Fourteen persons, most of them children, lost their lives yesterday in a fire, believed by city officials to be the work of a pyromaniac. The flames swept with murderous suddenness from cellar to attic of a five-story brick tenement at Lexington avenue and 110th street in the thickly-populated east side.

The blaze apparently started in a baby carriage under the stairs in the lower hall under almost identical circumstances as the recent incendiary fire in an upper west side apartment house which resulted in seven deaths. So quickly did the flames shoot through the building that a number of the dead were found in bed burned or suffocated without the slightest opportunity to escape.

SPAULDING PLAYERS IN MISHAP BUT WON

Four Players Somewhat Hurt When Auto Skidded Going to Game—Newport Defeated.

7 to 0.

With three players out of the game on account of scholastic standing and several more hardly in condition to play because of minor injuries received when one of the cars transporting them to Newport tipped over, the Spaulding high school team did well Saturday afternoon to defeat the Newport high aggregation by a score of 7 to 0.

The game was a fairly fast one, with both sides trying a number of passes, Spaulding having somewhat the better luck at this style of game. Galli, the recently developed quarterback, managed his team with skill and, using Abbiatti for the heavy work and Ericson on the kicking end of the line, the team showed up well.

Abbiatti made the only touchdown of the game, forcing the ball across on a line buck after the team had worked it over the Newport 10 yard line. Ericson kicked the goal for the extra point. Newport high played a hard game but could not get away with the heavy ball.

The Spaulding team was somewhat unnerved by the accident which took place on a slippery down-grade curve just before the team reached Newport on the way over. The big Cadillac car owned by B. Lucchina of this city and driven by his son contained Crichton, O'Herrin, Smith, Burnett and McNulty of the team. It is reported as having been moving slowly around the curve when it struck the slippery spot which caused it to slip sideways, turning over on its side as the brakes were applied. The windshield, fenders and top of the car were demolished, the players crawling out through a rent on the covering of the top. When the remainder of the team came up the car was tipped back onto four wheels and completed the journey to Newport and return.

WEDDING IS HALTED BY PISTOL BULLET

Charles Harriman of Monkton, Who Was to Have Been Married, Was Shot Friday Night—William Masters Arrested.

Monkton, Oct. 23.—Charles Harriman of this town is lying at death's door at Mary Fletcher hospital, Burlington, with a bullet wound in his liver, while William Masters is in Addison county jail at Middlebury awaiting the outcome with a charge of manslaughter hanging over his head.

Masters was arrested Sunday afternoon on the highway leading from Vergennes to Chimney point by Deputy Sheriff F. W. LeBeau. Chief of Police Bodett of Vergennes and John Goff, a citizen, pressed into service by the sheriff's department.

LeBeau states that Masters after arriving at the jail and being put through the third degree, confessed to having shot Harriman in a quarrel over Miss Mae Rose Benson, whom Harriman was to marry on Saturday. Later, declare the officers, Masters said it was all an accident. He said he went to the house where he boarded about midnight Friday. Harriman and a fellow lodger, Carl Cox, were there and the three began a conversation about a revolver which Masters was showing.

Masters claims that he shot it off several times before entering the house and believed that all the chambers were empty. He shot it again in the direction of Harriman and was surprised to see that he had really hit him. He then ran out of the house and threw the weapon into some bushes a short distance from the house.

When taken Masters was walking hurriedly toward Chimney Point and while he made no disturbance at the time became somewhat quarrelsome on the trip to jail. He had about $10 in money on his clothing.
